Need Drastic Solution To Highway Slaughter, Bert Gramlich Says

JUST ABOUT EVERYTHING amounts to cause an effect, opines Bert Gramlich, local citizen.

That is, every cause has its effect and every effect has its cause.

Mr. Gramlich is greatly and justly concerned about the slaughter on our highways. His thoughts, which he conveyed to me, apparently were spurred by the post-Labor Day headlines which carried the tragic highway death totals.

SOMETHING must be done and apparently the solutions must be drastic because it would take thousands of state policemen to patrol our highways sufficiently enough to keep down all—or nearly all—cases and signs of terrific speeds and recklessness, says Mr. Gramlich.

And after much cogitation he comes up with a couple of ideas which are drastic.

"But when we are dealing with saving lives which are now being lost on our highways, we are compelled to be drastic," he stated.

His first solution deals with speed, by far the greatest factor in crashes which kill and injure people.

"We've been spending too much time with effect and not going to the cause in attacking the problem of reducing highway slaughter," he said. "Instead of trying to urge people to hold down their speeds we should go to the cause and let the effect alone."

And what would Mr. Gramlich do to curb the speed of automobiles? He'd go right to the manufacturers themselves.

He said that right now there is conflict between the manufacturers who are putting more speed into motor vehicles and the people who are trying to reduce slaughter.

The right approach would be for the governments and others interested in highway safety to see that automobiles cannot go any faster than specified speeds, he said. And as an illustration, the state of Illinois could pass legislation requiring manufacturers to put governors on all cars coming into the state which would hold the speed down, say, to 65 miles per hour.

"You've got to have the right approach," he said. "As long as the manufacturers are giving the people more and more speed and power, the drivers are going to use it."

Bert's second solution is really drastic and I told him that it was, that I didn't believe that it would ever work. He agreed as to its severity.

He suggests that the 24-hour day be divided between passenger cars and trucks on the highways. For example, passenger cars could use them from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. and trucks from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m.

"Passenger car drivers cannot see around the big trucks," he said, "and if you had all of each class on the highways alone at the same time, you'd have far less accidents."

"Your Solution No. 1 regarding speed has a lot of merits," I told Bert, "but I don't believe you ever could reconcile the motoring public to your Solution No. 2."

"I admit it's very, very drastic," he answered, "but which should we consider—hastening the delivery of people and goods or hastening their deaths?"

This highway slaughter problem should concern all of us. It gets worse every day and results show that pleading with the public by the National Safety Council officials and others is not enough. If we have not had loved ones die on the highways, we have had close friends. And then look at the economic side. As highway accidents increase, more money goes out of your pocketbook for auto insurance. The insurance companies aren't paying for these accidents—you are doing the paying through increased premiums.

I would invite constructive letters on this problem of highway safety—reducing the slaughter and the number maimed. What do you have to say about it?

Miss Alabama and Miss Hawaii Get Head Start in Miss America Judging

By HARMON W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Miss Alabama, Patty Byrd Huddleston, got a head start in the Miss America contest for a nickel.

Lily Mae Caldwell, her dear pal and sponsor from the Birmingham News, learned that the pretty blonde was coming down with a bad cold. And that meant trouble, because Wednesday night when Patricia was supposed to give out her rendition of Verdi's "Mio Dio" from "La Forza Del Destino," she was hurting in the throat.

"That child couldn't get up a whisper, much less come up with some opera," Lily Mae said.

So the lovely Lily Mae took the nearest elevator and bought herself a nickel's worth of aspirin. Came Through Famously Pat came through famously. She won in the talent section in the first night of the judging.

Her twin in the deal was Miss Hawaii, something of a surprise, unless you had seen her in person before. How could the kid miss? She didn't.

She won the swim suit award the first night.

Miss Hawaii is Barbara Vieira of Honolulu and she had the perfect make-up—130 pounds, 36 bust, same around the hips and a 24-inch waist.

Margaret Walls, Miss Wisconsin, played something of a heroine when she did a toe tap routine Wednesday night despite a broken toe. She broke the toe in the finals in Milwaukee and forgot to tell anybody about it. A reporter who had no business back stage asked her to remove her slipper. And there was one of the blackest toes in show business.

The kids will do some more of the same tonight and Friday night, and the big winner will be named Saturday night—picked from 10 semi-finalists. She will have herself a long ride—125,000 miles most likely and every mile will be worth at least two bits or more.

Adenauer Leaves for Moscow Talks; Pledges to Serve Peace

BONN, Germany (UPI)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer left today by plane for Moscow with a pledge to serve the peace "not only in Europe but in the whole world" during five days of Kremlin conferences.

The blazing heat has already been blamed for 92 deaths and about 25 million dollars in damage to crops and livestock.

There was better news in Texas, where tropical storm Gladys dumped flooding rains of nearly 17 inches on Corpus Christi.

The flood waters still covered 20 to 30 square miles in and around the port city, surrounding the homes of 80,000 to 90,000 persons. But the rains subsided and an official said, "I think the worst is over."

In Mexico, however, Gladys' torments had sent rivers out of their banks, cutting highways and rail lines along the gulf coast.

In California, the fight against forest fires centered around a number of small communities southeast of Yreka which were threatened by the advancing flames.

A new fire was burning near Greenview, a town of 200 persons. Meanwhile, 200 persons were evacuated in Santa Barbara county and 13 fires involving 107,650 acres of state land were still blazing.

Hughes Asks Flour, Meal Be Added to Food Distribution

Eugene Hughes, board member of District 11, Progressive Mine Workers of America, today took action to get wheat flour and corn meal distributed to the needy in distressed mining areas such as southern Illinois.

Hughes wired the request to Gov. William G. Stratton.

His telegram said that Public Law 311 authorizes until June 30, 1957, the distribution of these commodities to needy individuals and families upon a request of the governor of the state.

"I have also been informed that the department of agriculture is now making arrangements for the purchase of these commodities and that they will be available in the next two or three weeks," the wire read, and added:

"I would like for you, as governor of the state, to request immediately from the department of agriculture the necessary flour and meal required by the needy in the distressed mining areas such as southern Illinois."

I would invite constructive letters on this problem of highway safety—reducing the slaughter and the number maimed. What do you have to say about it?

HARRISBURG'S YOUTH NIGHT BASEBALL PROGRAM gets big boost from VFW. Hollie Stout, left, Commander of Harrisburg VFW Post, presents check for $500.00 to Bob Karnes, president of the organization getting a lighted baseball field for Harrisburg youth. "Huck" Gee, right, is treasurer of the group. In addition to the $500, the VFW organization also has pledged to pay the rental of $100 annually on the field for the next five years. Karnes said today that approximately $2,500 already has been received to finance the program. A complete lighting system, including eight poles with eighty 1,500 watt lights, all wiring, pole braces and a batters' cage, has been purchased for $2,000 from a group that sponsored Class D baseball in Mt. Vernon. The system has been moved to Harrisburg and all the poles are in place, the field has been surveyed and work of constructing a grandstand is expected to start within the next ten days. Much of the labor has been donated and employees of the RFA have made a pledge to do the wiring of the field. REA men and others worked practically all day Sunday and Monday setting the light poles, burning weeds off the field and doing the surveying. The baseball field will be located across from the Saline county fairgrounds on the old Miners' Field site. The youth organization board of directors will consist of two representatives from each of the four civic groups in Harrisburg—Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

NATO Council Studies Crisis Over Cyprus

Turkey Assures Steps Taken to Prevent Rioting

PARIS (UPI)—Turkey assured the North Atlantic Treaty Organization today that it has taken all necessary steps to prevent a repetition of the anti-Greek riots which threatened the West's defense plans in the Mediterranean.

The Turkish statement was made as the NATO council met in secret session to debate the dynamite-laden relations of Greece and Turkey.

It came as Foreign Ministry sources in Athens reported the Greek government had instructed its delegate to ask today's conference to postpone the forthcoming NATO naval maneuvers. The sources said the Greeks also were considering a similar request in regard to the pending Balkan crisis of staff conference in Ankara.

NATO Secretary General Lord Ismay called today's meeting of the council to hear reports from both sides in the rioting which occurred in Greece and in Turkey in the past two days over the critical Cyprus issue.

It was feared the breakdown Wednesday of British-Turkish talks in London over the future of the critical Mediterranean island might provoke more disorders and further strain the NATO alliance.

A paper written by Mrs. E. B. Webster from information secured by interviews with two early residents of Harrisburg, Tom Jones and William H. Parish, was read. The paper, "The Development of Harrisburg 1854 To 1910," listed many of the early industries, businesses, and families that made up the early village of Harrisburg.

However, despite attacks by Turkish mobs on Greek officers at NATO's southeastern headquarters in Smyrna, Athens ordered its representatives to remain on the job and rejected press suggestions that it withdraw from NATO.

Mehmet Ali Tiney, Turkish delegate to the NATO council, delivered his country's pledge of future order in a personal report to the 15 member nations.

Government officials said the chancellor would flatly reject any such proposals and would tell the Kremlin leaders there was no hope of seducing West Germany out of her alliance with the free West.

Unit For Neutrality

Adenauer fears the Soviets will offer unity and the release of the prisoners in exchange for the Bonn republic's abandonment of rearmament and the Western alliance and agreeing to a "neutral" status such as that accepted by Austria.

Government officials said the chancellor would flatly reject any such proposals and would tell the Kremlin leaders there was no hope of seducing West Germany out of her alliance with the free West.

Oct. 1 Deadline For Personal Taxes

The Navy Recruiting station at Marion announced today that two Harrisburg young men have enlisted in the Navy.

They are Thomas Jack Edward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edward, 210 West College, and Darrel Foster Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Powell, 105 West Park.

These young men are 1955 HTHS graduates, and enlisted under the Navy program which guarantees a service school at which they will learn a skilled trade. They were given a choice of serving with the fleet or as part of the growing Naval Air Arm.

Both chose to serve with the Air Arm.

The Navy Recruiter will be at the State Employment office Monday and Thursday mornings to answer any questions pertaining to the many special enlistment programs in the Navy.

Bank Established

The postmaster did the banking for the community through the Money Order department and the Express company. Baker, Walker and Co. started a bank which ran for several years. Afterwards the Old Saline County bank was established with a capital of $10,000.

Coal was first produced in 1856 from a drift mine. In 1883 a shaft mine was sunk and coal was raised with a "whim" worked by a pair of mules. Steam was afterwards used.

Zoo Visitors Watch as Aging Black Panther Battles to Death with 5 Lions

CHICAGO — A gallant black panther, aging but still full of jungle courage, fought to the death with five lions to save his mate at the Brookfield Zoo.

Visitors watched in horror on Wednesday as Snowball, a 12-year old panther from Sumatra, sprang at five lions who had been let into his cage by mistake.

Snowball never had a chance. A single blow from a huge lion's paw broke his back and he was dead within moments. But his mate, spitting fury from a ledge in the cage, was unharmed.

The lions were in the panthers' cage for only eight minutes before zoo attendants, using bars, poles, and streams of water, forced them from Snowball's mangled body.

Fought for Mate

Zoo Director Robert Bean said Snowball apparently sprang into

Civil Defense Prepares Plans For Target Cities

WASHINGTON — The Federal Civil Defense Administration is undertaking a nationwide effort to prepare detailed "survival plans" for America's key "target cities."

The plans, which will vary from city to city, are designed to speed the evacuation of the downtown population into the relatively safer suburbs in case of atomic attack.

Congress gave the agency a special appropriation of 10 million dollars to finance the plans, which will be drawn up by local officials working with federal civil defense teams.

The plans, which will vary from city to city, are designed to speed the evacuation of the downtown population into the relatively safer suburbs in case of atomic attack.

Congress gave the agency a special appropriation of 10 million dollars to finance the plans, which will be drawn up by local officials working with federal civil defense teams.

Although no timetable for starting the projects has been set, Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson has indicated New York will be one of the first cities covered.

Milwaukee, St. Louis, Philadelphia and cities of medium size will come next.

A Chicago project will be discussed within a few months,

The Federal Civil Defense Administration said.

The FCDA is getting out a manual designed to help cities make their plans. It will explain shelter and evacuation procedures and other matters relating to survival in an atomic attack.

The agency wants the plans completed within a year. Each city is supposed to be tested within six months after it is drawn up with an actual evacuation exercise.

Purpose of the survival plans the agency said, is to get people out of the danger area as quickly as possible and into nearby areas that are presumed safe from the blast and heat of a nuclear bomb.

It said people must be moved beyond the "urban fringe" — the area in which population thins to 2,000 persons per square mile. Beyond this "urban fringe" shelters will be needed to protect the evacuated dwellers from radioactive "fallout." Each plan must be designed so that it is simple and can go into effect almost automatically in case of an attack.

Minister Shouldn't Be a Secretary

MILWAUKEE — A minister's job is to be a spiritual leader rather than an "executive secretary" of a congregation, according to Dr. A. O. Fuerbringer, president of Concordia Theological Seminary, St. Louis.

"A minister must always remain pastor, preacher, teacher and counselor," he told a Lutheran Church Missouri Synod here.

Secretarial work, he believes, should be delegated by a minister to others. He suggested this list of "techniques" to lessen administrative problems in larger churches.

Take plenty of time for planning, urge members to take part in decisions, give jobs to specific persons rather than committees, appoint persons to jobs rather than electing them or asking them to volunteer, and call in business and other specialists when they are needed.

Labor Dep't Upholds Guaranteed Pay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government gave an initial okay today to the so-called "guaranteed wage" plans set up in the auto and can industries this year.

Secretary of Labor James P.

Mitchell announced that department lawyers have ruled that the 5 cents an hour contributions made by the Ford Motor Co. to its unemployment compensation fund will not be counted as part of the base pay under the federal fair labor standards act.

If the ruling had gone the other way, it likely would have killed the Ford plan and similar plans. The Ford contract with the CIO United Auto Workers was conditional upon the department ruling that the contribution would not be counted as wages.

Haymes Faces Suits For Unpaid Bills

HOLLYWOOD — Crooner Dick Haymes, whose actress-wife, Rita Hayworth, walked out on him last week, found himself embroiled today with two suits for unpaid bills.

Atty. David C. Marcus filed suit Wednesday for $25,000 he claims Haymes owes him for legal services for fighting a deportation battle and in litigation with two of his ex-wives, Joanne Dru and Nora Eddington.

Marcus, who brought suit in superior court, said Haymes and Miss Hayworth both ignored demands for payment. Miss Hayworth also was named a defendant in the action.

Another suit was filed against Haymes in municipal court for $930 by J. P. Butler, representing three clients. Haymes was accused of owing $451 to the Scandia Restaurant; $469 to Don Scariano, Beverly Hills airline travel agent; and $10 to Beverly Hills cleaner Purdy Filbert.

Patrick Henry made his famous "liberty or death" speech on Mar. 23, 1775, in St. John's Episcopal Church, a comparatively small structure still standing on top of Richmond Hill in Richmond, Virginia.

BROKERAGEJudge Rejects Order Against Teacher Oaths

CHICAGO (UPI) — Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher said today there is a "serious" question whether schoolteachers can be required to sign loyalty oaths under the new Illinois Broyles law.

However, Fisher refused to grant a plea by a teacher and the American Civil Liberties Union that he issue an emergency order prohibiting the Chicago Board of Education from requiring the oaths.

He continued the case after receiving assurances from the board's lawyer that the teacher is still at work, and that since no pay checks will be issued until Sept. 23 there is enough time to have further hearings on the matter.

The case was assigned to Circuit Judge Julius Miner for further hearings, probably starting sometime next week.

Says Teachers Exempt

Under the Broyles law, passed by the 1955 Illinois Legislature, no employee of the state or any of its subdivisions may receive his pay unless he has signed an oath that he is not disloyal. Local government employees are exempt.

Two West Point Officers Killed

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (UPI) — Two officers assigned to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point were killed Wednesday in the crash of a jet trainer plane at nearby Stewart Air Force Base.

Army officials identified the victims as Army Capt. John R. Hall, 47, of Muscatine, Iowa, and Air Force Lt. Eugene C. Etz, 28, of Independence, Kan.

The Te T33 trainer had just taken off on a routine training flight when it was forced to return and attempt an emergency landing. The plane cleared the boundary fence of the field but lacked sufficient speed to reach the runway and crashed in the midst of a construction area, narrowly missing a group of workers.

Hall and Etz, both 1950 West Point graduates, were married and lived with their families at the military academy.

Douglas Pledges To Support Adlai

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Paul H. Douglas said today the Democrats can defeat President Eisenhower in 1956 in a "hard election."

The Illinois Democrat predicted that his party's presidential nominee again will be Adlai E. Stevenson. He said he would support Stevenson for the nomination next year. In 1952 Douglas opposed the selection of the former Illinois governor and supported the candidacy of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Douglas predicted that Stevenson, who has promised to announce his political intentions in November, will declare himself a candidate.

VA Seeks Hometown Jobs for Aged Vets In Old-Soldier Homes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Veterans Administration has set up a program aimed at providing home town jobs for many aging veterans now in "old-soldier" homes.

As a first step the VA plans to give them jobs in VA homes and hospitals. Then, when they are able to leave the soldier homes, they would get regular, paying VA jobs, if they qualify, or seek employment elsewhere. There are now 17,000 veterans in federal "old-soldier" homes.

The VA called its new program a system of "planned living" designed to make these veterans "productive citizens again in their home communities."

IPAC Probes Number Of Single Men on Chicago Relief Rolls

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Illinois Public Aid Commission has called for an inquiry to learn why Chicago has more than 14,000 unmarried persons on its relief rolls.

Harold G. Baker, IPAC secretary from East St. Louis, urged the investigation at a meeting Wednesday, saying he was surprised to learn so many single persons were on the rolls.

More Students, Fewer Teachers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There will be 1,657,000 more students enrolled in schools and colleges this fall than last, but there will be fewer teachers and a still acute classroom shortage.

This picture of the school situation was reported today by Education Commissioner Samuel M. Brownell.

Brownell said that grade and high schools will be short 141,300 teachers and 265,000 classrooms this fall.

Studebaker Workers Ordered Back to Jobs

Motorist Arrested

Stratton Schedule Leaves No Doubt of Re-Election Campaign

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — (Special to The Daily Register) — Gov. William G. Stratton told a recent press conference he will make public his intentions as to future office-seeking after January 1st but a chart issued by his office showing where he was in early September and where he'll be the rest of the month left no doubt in anyone's mind, that he is actually already campaigning for re-election.

The chart listed nearly a score of engagements in various parts of the state involving many thousands of miles of travel. Last week and through last Sunday he was busy with the Illinois American Legion convention at Springfield, last Friday he was at "Charlie Fleck Day" at the Medina Country club, Chicago, and last Saturday he rode a horse to lead a Rodeo Exposition parade at Rock Island.

Wednesday he attended a Chamber of Commerce luncheon at Waukegan; today he was at the Mattoon Centennial; and tomorrow he will be at the McLean County Centennial, Bloomington. This Saturday he journeys to East St. Louis and then to Cahokia Downs race track for "Governor's Day" and Sunday he is billed for an appearance at the Grant Township Republican picnic (Lake County).

Stratton indicated he plans little primary campaigning as such, wouldn't discourage anyone from running against him, doesn't care one way or the other, anyhow can't see any opposition with a program better than his which he said includes things he has done for roads, cities, schools and state hospitals. He said he hadn't given a thought to primary opposition that "the administration program speaks for itself."

The Governor was eager when President Eisenhower's name was brought into the discussion. Asked if Ike's failure to run would be vital to the Illinois Republican party, Stratton said: "Let's answer it this way. If he doesn't run it would certainly hurt the party nationally. But with him at the head of the ticket it would help the party nationally as well as in Illinois."

He said he hadn't received any "direct" action on his State Fair Republican day demand for Ike's renomination by acclamation at the San Francisco Republican national convention next year, but that "I hope my suggestion was favorably received. The President certainly must know the sentiment of the country and must feel his responsibility."

At the close of the program the signed consent which is necessary before any child can share in the communicable disease control clinic will be returned to the parent for his safe keeping. What the child had and when will be plainly noted so that in case of emergency the family doctor may be given the information by his parent. A family record of immunization is encouraged.

A fee of 25¢ will be charged for each shot, however, families who cannot afford the small fee may send a note of explanation to the respective teacher.

Peoria to Vote On Higher Taxes To Build Schools

PEORIA, Ill. — A citizens' committee which had spent five months studying school needs Tuesday night told the Peoria School Board there is "desperate urgency" for a multi-million dollar building program.

The school board then voted to hold a city-wide referendum by Dec. 1 on higher taxes. Neither the board nor the citizens' committee went into further detail on how high the taxes should go to finance the needed buildings or what other means might be used to finance building.

The committee recommended a 15 million dollar building program, 12½ million dollars in projects to start as soon as possible and another 2½ million before 1965.

The program would include three new high schools, with the present three city high school plants being used for junior high schools. Another junior high school would be part of the long-range building plan. Other plans are for three new grade schools on the city's south side and long-range planning for replacement of six present grade schools with new buildings.
